Outdoor Kitchens - Flexibility in Design

Hedberg Outdoor Living™ outdoor kitchens are crafted from sturdy modules designed to withstand the rigours of our region's weather. This modular design means you have literally have thousands of options for your custom outdoor kitchen. You can make it any size and shape you want - galley style, L-shaped, curved, you name it. Put a bar-height fire table at one end, or place it apart. Choose from a wide selection of stainless steel appliances and accessories including standard and gourmet cooking surfaces, storage components, lighting, blenders, beer coolers and much more. You can also design your kitchen to accept third party appliances.

The flexibility doesn't stop there. You can face your outdoor kitchen with stone, concrete block or stucco and top it with granite counters, tiles, concret or custom cut stone. Our exterior design experts can help you find just the right finish to complement your home exterior and existing landscaping. We can also recommend a qualified contractor to install your new outdoor living elements.
